Mary Johnson, retired Woodbury Library teacher for preschool to 12 year old children for art and crafts programs, spoke to us on Thursday, August 4th. Mary had a terrific program to keep the young students interested and active in this worthwhile program.

Our annual picnic at Red Bank National Battlefield Park was on Thursday, August 18th at 5pm. Over 25 Kiwanians, spouses, friends and Key Club and Circle K leaders attended. Amanda Park, Circle K, board member and newsletter editor, gave us an idea of what was happening in their world. The weather held out until 7:45pm and then the storm clouds arrived as we departed. Thank you, Newt, for arranging our picnic.

We had a majority of board members at our meeting on August 4th to vote to hold our third meeting a month in the evening. On September 15th our evening meeting will be at the Clayton for the Farmers Night at 6:15pm. The Gloucester County farmers will be our hosts. The evening meeting for October is TBA at this point.

On Thursday, August 25th we were privileged to have some of our Key Club Leaders join us for lunch. The West Deptford Key Club advisor, Kathleen Yeager joined us also. Each WD Key Club member told us of their favorite activity for the year. Stephen enjoyed their storybook luncheon; Brooke’s project for Children’s Specialized Hospital was the volleyball marathon; and Erika worked with UNICEF for a trick or treat activity. Megan, from GCIT enjoyed the middle school dance for Special Needs Students. Rebecca, from Clearview, worked and participated on the talent show held at Christmas.

Betty Limanni, Carol and Rich Stahler, Connie and George Wagoner, and Joan Van Note, attended the NJ District Convention in Somerset, NJ on August 20th. These members will give reports on workshops which they attended. The Eliminate Project, our Kiwanis International Project was kicked off by NJ Kiwanians. Zeller fellows, those who make a $1,250. contribution September 30th will be recognized. Joan has already accepted this challenge at the NJ District Convention.
